New problem in arithmetic—how to add one to one and the result will be one. Get married.

The fellow who lives high—like a millionaire—these days, generally has a poor appetite and bad digestion.

Peace seems likely to arrive in the far east long before it settles over some of the big cities of this country.

When a man boasts that he is the descendant of some great man, he should not be criticised. Usually he has no other occasion for boasting.

It is said that man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn. This is doubtless true. The same sort of process also makes many millionaires.

SOMEbody hunting for heroes should buy a medal for the New Jersey man who has resigned a public position on the ground that it is too easy and ought to be abolished.

ONE Indiana man has been fined $100 for smoking a cigarette and another has been fined in the sum of $2,000 for stealing a kiss. But the drunkard and the gambler are let severely alone.

ANOTHER "Uncle Tom's Cabin" story ought to be written with the scenes laid in the Philippines. It is said that Uncle Sam is sending bloodhounds there, to chase the colored brother down.

It is a fact not noted as generally as it should be, that all anarchists are foreigners. And foreigners are coming to our shores by the thousands every week. Can we afford the risk of this reckless importation?

It will be noticed that Andrew Carnegie's gifts generally have a string tied to them—that is, he requires the donee to give as much as he does, or it is no go. Such donations are practically double gifts from two parties.

Russia's greatest need seems to be for some level-headed fellow to sit on the lid. But there is some aversion to this position from the fact that dynamite fumes sometimes emanate from the inside, while bombs are flying through the air.

The Japanese, to a man, are loyal to their country. The Russians are very much divided, many anarchists being in their ranks. This may account for the victorious march of Japan over an enemy that is generally understood to be her superior in many ways.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT is said to be trying to buy a summer home near Richmond, Va., close to a house which has long borne the reputation of being haunted. This will hardly disturb Teddy, however, for he has had "haunts" enough in his political party to make him immune.

THE whole newspaper fraternity of the State sympathize with Editor Louis Landrum, of the Lancaster Record, who is in ill health. Mr. Landrum prepares all the matter for his paper while perched on a cot. The attending physician, however, says that he will soon have Mr. Landrum out, which is certainly good news.

THE modern battleship, despite its alleged invulnerability, is, after all, little more than a delicate boat of very costly machinery. Its imperviousness has come to be a matter of guess work. Never a fighting ship has been built that did not have as a floating companion some piece of mechanism that could quickly annihilate it. An invulnerable battleship seems to be an impossibility.

MR. C. J. BONAPARTE, Mr. Roosevelt's appointee to be Secretary of the Navy, vice Hon. Paul Morton, resigned, is a grandson of the brother of the great Napoleon and is said to be an aristocrat in belief and action. He refuses to recognize the every-day man and carries his head in the air as if he were constantly hunting bees in a beehive. He seems to think he is the real stuff and that his main mission is to reform the earth. It is further alleged that he has never been a regular Republican.

LET us not be too severe on the fool things that have been done by fanatics of the past. Let us sit up and take notice of our own follies. In New York City there are women who spend $1,000 a year for clothes for peevish dogs. Some of these creatures wear emerald-green coats worth $200 apiece, which contain pockets holding expensive lace handkerchiefs. It is quite often that you read of some fool thing which somebody does that makes you want to apologize to the idiots of other ages. Take it all in all, the world hasn't changed much in the last thousand years along the crank line.

QUITE a number of persons have returned to Hartford within the last few months after an absence of several years. It is the universal comment that Hartford has improved greatly within that period. Our new pike road from here to Beaver Dam, two large new flouring mills, an electric light plant, lighting the whole town, a new ice plant running day and night, are features which stand out prominently as an evidence of Hartford's progress and prosperity. A fine college, three big churches and a Y. M. C. A. building, &c., are other features which have helped to make the town famous. We will soon have macadamized streets and water works. Everybody seems busy and there are few idle hands. We believe we have the best town of its size in the South, and we invite people to come and locate with us.

We do not wish to detract from the glory of any man nor from the glory of his deeds, but we are rather of the opinion that President Roosevelt is getting more credit out of the alleged peace negotiations between Russia and Japan than is really due him. The big fight in the Japan sea is what did the work and put Russia in a position of impressing upon them the urgency of a cessation of hostilities, and the result would have been the same without a word from Mr. Roosevelt. We are willing at all times to give our President credit for being sharp, shrewd and brainy, and we think the present instance was one of his ready acts for self-education for which he is famous. Other nations also suggested peace.

OUTSIDE a personal attack, about the worst injury which can be done persons is to talk unkindly about them or help circulate evil reports concerning them. In most instances these injuries magnify themselves in undue and untrue proportions. Many a man and woman, boy and girl, have lived for years under a cloud of criticism which was both unjust and untrue. An evil word is a little thing, but it sometimes ruins a whole life. Better the kind word, the word of charity, even though you do not admire the person spoken of. In any event, this will help you most of all. There are few persons able to criticize others, from a justifiable standpoint. You don't know their lives—perhaps they are not so much to blame after all as you know. Anyhow, a helping hand is the best of all—an act which always blesses more than one person and often changes a whole life onto the side of goodness and usefulness.

DUNDEE.

(Special to THE HERALD.)

June 12.—We had a fine rain Sunday evening. The ground was needing it. The wheat crop is fine in this section.

Mr. Ed Jones' little boy is very sick of whooping cough and pneumonia. Little Isabelle Acton has a severe case of whooping cough.

Mrs. Mabel Sprinkle has returned from Woodbury, where she has been to see her father, who is sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Mitchell are the happy parents of a new baby boy. Ellis says he will raise tobacco next year.

There will be a big barbecue at Dundee, July the 8th.

H. C. Acton sold a fine young mare to Claude Renfrow Saturday.

Claud Renfrow and S. S. Acton, the stockmen, will ship two loads of hogs Tuesday.

The Dundee Bank will soon be ready for business.

We throw up our hats and hallow three times for the railroad, for we need it.

Mr. W. R. Bean has returned from Oklahoma, where he went to take up land, but he says there were men just ahead of him. All land taken up, but Uncle Billy came back to Kentucky all smiles any way.

No Secret About It.

It is no secret that for Cuts, Burns, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Sore Eyes, Boils, etc., nothing is so effective as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "It didn't take long to cure a bad sore I had, and it is all O.K. for sore eyes," writes D. L. Gregory, of Hope, Texas. 25c at J. H. Williams' drug store.

A Sharp to Ponder.

John Sharp Williams in his statement concerning the canal supplies decision, thinks the Springfield Republican (and) is one to be pondered increasingly by humble folk: "The only thing curious to my mind is that the men who can see so clearly the iniquity when it comes to beating a hard bargain upon the government itself or the Panama canal commission, which is the same thing, being a branch of the government, cannot see it and will not remedy it when bearing as a hardship upon the people, many of whom are so much poorer and less able to withstand extortion than the government."

Injunction Issued.

A stringent injunction has been issued against the malignant activity of dyspepsia against all people, by Dr. Caldwell's (Laxative) Syrup Pepsin. Do not fail to invoke the powerful aid of this great remedy of all stomach and bowel disorders at the least sign of trouble in any of your digestive organs. It will promptly and surely set them right, and make you well. Try it. Sold by Z. Wayne Griffin and Bro., Hartford, and J. B. Canan, Olaton, Ky., at 50c and $1. Money back if it fails.

Imitators.

(Specially Record.)

Kentucky Republicans are nothing but imitators. Envious of Democracy's signal success with a "boy Governor" they are going to try to get one in the person of Justice Harlan.

Ask Your Dealer for Allen's Foot-Ease.

A powder for the feet. It cures Swollen Feet, Hot Corns, Aching, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. At all drug stores and shoe stores, 25c. Ask for day.

Records Broken by Kentucky's Gunners.

NEW YORK, June 10.—All records for shooting with five-inch guns were broken by four gunners of the first class battleship Kentucky on the Northern drillship grounds twenty miles of Sand Hook, last Thursday. One gunner, with fourteen shots, hit the target thirteen times. The second gunner fired thirteen times a minute and hit the target each time. Two other men had each twelve hits out of thirteen shots a minute.

The range was 1,600 yards, and the target was twenty-one feet by seven feet, consisting of a painted muslin screen and floated on a raft.

Rear Admiral Evans, who was in command of the squadron, said it was shooting of which any good American might be proud.

Foreign Vote Not Needed.

The Madisonville Graphic says: There should never be such a thing as the "foreign vote" that we have in many of our cities which is pandering to the politicians. No man should be allowed a vote in this country until he has been here long enough and until he is so thoroughly Americanized that he is to all intents and purposes an American.

REPLIN.

(Special to THE HERALD.)

May 12.—The farmers are rejoicing over the rain, for they think they will get to finish setting their tobacco.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Russell and little son, Paul, attended the Masonic barbecue at Ulica Saturday.

Several from here attended the ice cream supper at No Creek Saturday night. All report a pleasant time.

Mrs. Mollie Patton and son, Ansel, were called to the bedside of Mrs. Patton's brother-in-law, Mr. Will Ellis of Owensboro, who is dangerously ill.

Mr. James Ellis is at the bedside of his brother Mr. Will Ellis of Owensboro.

Mr. Virgil Riggs is on the sick list.

Mr. Ham Daley of Pleasant Ridge spent Saturday night with Mr. Ansel Patton.

Smoking in a Powder Magazine.

Is courting death more suddenly than more surely than neglecting kidney disorders. Foley's Kidney Cure will cure a slight disorder in a few days and its continued use will cure the most obstinate cases. It has cured many people of Bright's disease who were thought to be incurable. If you have kidney or bladder trouble, commence taking Foley's Kidney Cure to-day before it is too late. Sold by J. H. Williams, Hartford, Ky.

Unjust Discrimination.

The statement that "merchants of Salt Lake City pay $3.25 per hundred pounds on cotton goods shipped from North Carolina, while San Francisco merchants have their shipments from North Carolina taken right through Salt Lake City and delivered to them more than a thousand miles farther and pay $1.80," leads the Charlotte Observer (Dem.) to say that such discrimination is not right. "Railroads are not wholly private property, but are semipublic corporations, and surely there should reside somewhere the power to remedy such a state of affairs as this."

International Epworth League Convention.

For the above occasion, Denver, Col., July 5-9, 1905, excursion tickets will be sold from Beaver Dam to Denver, Col., and return for $29.35. Tickets on sale June 29th to July 3rd, return limit July 14th, with privilege of extension of limit to August 8th, 1905, by depositing with validating agent July 5th to 14th, and payment of fee of 30 cents.

Kentucky's Finances.

The statement of Kentucky's financial condition as given out by the State Treasurer ought to make all Kentuckians feel good and to attract attention from abroad. The total debt of the State consists of only $10,000,000 in the Treasury, in addition to the capital fund. How many States in the Union can beat that?

Huge Task.

It was a huge task to undertake the cure of such a bad case of kidney disease as that of C. F. Collier, of Cherokee, Ia., but Electric Bitters did it. He writes: "My kidneys were so far gone, I could not sit in a chair without a cushion, and suffered from a dreadful backache, headache and depression. In Electric Bitters, however, I found a cure, and by them was restored to perfect health. I recommend this great medicine to all with weak kidneys, liver or stomach. Guaranteed by Jas. H. Williams, druggist. Price 50c."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. Any proprietor who has sold this curative remedy should be offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Though the Confederate reunion proper did not begin until to-day, the social side was really inaugurated Monday evening with the arrival of Gen. Stephen D. Lee. He was met by the Kentucky Colonels and escorted to his headquarters in the Galt House. Gen. Lee makes the prediction that this will be the banner reunion.

Rolla Lewis was taken out by regulators at Union, Ind., six miles east of Jeffersonville, Thursday night, tied to a tree and given a whipping. Considerable excitement prevailed for some time.

Lewis is a white man about twenty-five years old and the complaint against him was that he would not take care of his aged mother, Lucinda Lewis.

In a fight during religious services at Gamm's Chapel, in Garrard county, a Catholic in attempting to kill Jim Murphy shot his brother, Olde Tudor.

Murphy took refuge in the church and a Catholic forced the door and following Murphy to the front bench, shot him down. Magistrate Stapp, who had been summoned, was fired on by Tudor and the officer wounded him with a shotgun. The three wounded men are in a dangerous condition.

President Roosevelt has secured a mutual agreement from Russia and Japan to discuss the question of peace. While the text of the official notes received is not made public, it is stated that the preliminary negotiations are proceeding smoothly. It is understood that Washington is not considered favorably by either belligerent as a place of meeting. It is believed that no serious difficulty will be encountered in reaching a decision on this point. Both Count Cassini and Minister Takahira held important conference yesterday with the President, but they declined to be interviewed as to matters discussed.

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This.

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Bessing, 701 West Third Street, Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew to asthma. The best medical skill available could not give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one 50-cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma, which had been growing on me for twelve years, and if I had taken it at the start, I would have been saved years of suffering."

County Sunday School Convention.

The annual convention of the County Sunday School Association will be held at Centerville, July 11. A strong program is being prepared, and every effort will be made to make this the best convention ever held in the county.

Mr. Gebauer, State Secretary, will represent the State work. He is thoroughly conversant with every detail of Sunday School work and his talks will be practical and helpful. Some of the best local talent will also be utilized.

The secretary is now gathering reports from the Sunday Schools of the county, and every superintendent should send in his report and contribution promptly. Each school in the county should appoint one or two delegates to represent the school officially. In addition to these, as many others as possible should attend. Look for program in next issue of this paper.

Cures Old Sores.

Westmoreland, Kansas, May 5, 1902. Ballard's Snow Liniment cured an old sore on the side of my chin that was supposed to be a cancer. The sore was stubborn and would not yield to treatment, until I tried Snow Liniment, which did the work in short order. My sister, Mrs. Sophia J. Carson, Allenview, Mifflin Co., Pa., has a sore and mistrusts that it is a cancer. Please send her a 50c bottle. Sold by J. H. Williams.

Illinois' New Law.

The Washington Post's political observer notes that next year for the first time in the history of Illinois a senatorial toga is to be disposed of at a general primary. "It means that next year Senator Shelby M. Cullom must virtually secure his new commission, at all, like the millions preceding him, by dragging the name of the law precedes for primary the last Saturday in April, 1906."

Dreary Outlook For the "Outs."

The decision of Postmaster General Cortelyou that postmasters must not be members of political committees has given some offense to many ardent Republican patriots. Who is to take care of the interests of congressmen and senators who disburse "the pork" if the recipient at the public trough does not do so. And then there is the danger to the official that some other aspirant will, by doing the bidding of the bosses, underwrite the P. M. and eventually displace him. It has also been given out as a cold fact that politics will not always be allowed to guide in the selection of postmasters and that congressmen have no inherent right to name the candidate. This adds another cloud to the dreary outlook of the machine politicians, and if the weather does not soon clear a good many patriots who love their country for what there is in it will have to hunt other and more fertile fields to cultivate.

A Tribute to a Friend.

The spirit of Joe Reed Shultz has gone to that unknown land. Death with his chilly fingers has touched the lips and made silent the voice of one of God's noblemen, in the very prime of life, and like the millions preceding him who have trod this sphere, he has gone to join that innumerable caravan that moves to that mysterious realm where each shall take his chamber in the silent halls of death.

It is natural for men to give due praise to the living and to pay in some manner or form, a just tribute to the dead. But not infrequently there arise those cases where some men, by their noble deeds, their higher qualities and attributes, their commendable conduct and worthy lives among men, have no praise commensurate with the life and character of each. We recall, we recount, we feel in our hearts a just sense of praise for our departed friends whom we have known to be worthy of all—all just praise, but no use of words can give full and complete expression to the heart's feelings.

From first memory I have known Joe Reed Shultz. I have never known a better man. Born not in the lap of luxury and ease, but "to fortune and to fame unknown," it was left to this hero in the great conflict to build his own fortune, to carve out his own destiny. At no period in his life strong and vigorous in body, and with a constitution in his younger days that even threatened to cut short the thread of life, he faced, fought and conquered every obstacle in the road to success with the faith and courage of one whose strong right arm never knows a fear and feels no opposition.

Intellectually he had few equals, and no superiors among his fellow men, and his native State has paid high honors to many men of inferior intellectual attainments.

A close student of history, he was as familiar with Plutarch and Gibbon as the college student with our own history. For twenty-five years he had been a most careful reader of all the most noted authors, and the great things of Shakespeare, Burns, Pope and our own American poets and authors were constantly in his every day life. He was a careful and critical reader of constitutional history and the history of our times, and it can be said—and truly said—that if his energies had been directed solely along intellectual lines, he would undoubtedly have taken and held rank with such men as Stephens, Calhoun and Clay.

Early in life he had read much from the life and writings of Jefferson, Hamilton, Paine, and Madison, and from these he learned to believe in the equal rights of all men—in the universal rights of mankind; Often have I heard him quote the expression: "He that hath ears to hear, let him hear," yet more frequently have I heard him say: "He that hath a mind to think, let him think." Liberty, freedom and exact justice to all men, he cherished as he did his own life. He had little appreciation for the inequality in this life. He hated oppression in all forms. Never a day passed but, through his mind passed his choicest selection from that great master of song:

"I am designed your lordship's slave,
By nature's law designed,
Why was an independent wish
Ever planted in my mind?"

Coming of an ancestry through whose veins there coursed the blood of the true cavalier, he exhibited all the traits and excellent qualities of these higher types of manhood. Possessing no love for the accredited Puritanic spirit and conscience, he was broad and liberal to realize that political wickedness and party mischief had no geographical limitations.

His indomitable courage, iron will, his mental strength and moral worth, with his many other many qualities, made him the leader and counselor for his community since his early manhood. He possessed every qualification for a leader of men.

He was my friend—he was the friend of mankind. Many in need have asked of him and they received. He permitted no one in want to beg of him.

A friend of the common people, a benefactor, a distinguished citizen has gone to receive those final rewards of the truly goodman. He has passed from a field of mingled hopes, joys and fears. Such men as he needs no marble monument or granite shafts to perpetuate their memories. The principles they advocate, those living, vital truths they teach, are perpetual directories and guiding stars to the coming generations and these will be heeded, praised and exalted when marble shall not endure.

No higher tribute can be paid this noble and brave man than to state that when the final summons came, he received it "like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams."
